

MS. SMART: SHOWING KIDS THEY ARE SMART TOO

This year I have a grade four teacher that is very important to me. Her name is Ms. Smart. She has shown me that school is not boring, and that I am actually good at learning. Please allow me to tell you about her and how she changed my opinion about school.

Ms. Smart is very kind and helps all of her students with everything they need. Ms. Smart has been a really good friend of mine ever since the first day of school. I used to think that school was boring, but when Ms. Smart came along, school seemed SO fun! She has done a lot of things to help me like school. For example, we play math games that we made in class called Multiplication Bingo and KABOOM! These games are great because I love math, we are learning, and they are fun. I even win sometimes!

Ms. Smart is helping me work on some things that I struggle with like staying focused, not fidgeting, and not talking when in class. She lets me borrow her squishy ball when I get fidgety, she lets me move my desk if I am being too distracted, and she gives out points for good behavior that can be traded in for computer time.

Her personality makes me like being in her class because she is very friendly and helpful. Ms. Smart helps me make friends, and she makes me feel happy when I am sad. A few weeks ago she made me feel really good about my machine project when she asked me to stay after class so she could show her own kids.

She is helping me become a better student by making me do my work on my own and giving me harder stuff such as a harder math sheet.

Ms. Smart explains stuff that I do not get in a way that I understand. She also encourages me to get my work done in class so I do not have to do it at home. One cool thing that she lets me do is help the other students in class (which I LOVE to do).

Ms. Smart allows me to challenge myself with harder work, and she makes school seem more fun and easy. She makes me feel proud when I do my best.

I hope my essay helps you understand how important Ms. Smart is to me. I wish all grade four students have a teacher as good as Ms. Smart. I hope you choose her for this award, because I think she deserves it. Besides, don't you think she has the perfect name for someone teaching kids? I think it's the best name for a teacher.
